Intellectual Property, Computer and Information Technology Law

(L to R): David B. Gornish, William C. Youngblood, Salvatore R. Guerriero, Marc B. Bassler

Intellectual Property Counsel For Visionaries®

With a distinguished 80-year history, Caesar, Rivise, Bernstein, Cohen & Pokotilow, Ltd. is called upon to counsel clients worldwide and to provide the creative solutions and legal strategies necessary to procure, manage and enforce its clients' wide-ranging intellectual property needs. The experience and dedication of the firm's attorneys and staff are exhibited in its focused expertise in the areas of patents, trademarks, copyrights, trade secrets and Internet and computer law, and nowhere is this expertise more evident than in its national prominence in the high-powered fields of medicine, medical devices, biotechnology and biotech engineering, chemical engineering, pharmaceuticals and Abbreviated New Drug Application (ANDA) litigation.

A cum laude graduate of Widener University School of Law, Salvatore Guerriero's practice concentrates on complex patent, trademark, copyright and trade secret disputes, as well as trademark and copyright prosecution.

In addition to patent, copyright and trademark prosecution, Bill Youngblood's practice focuses on pharmaceutical litigation matters, including ANDA litigation. He is also a major in the U.S. Army Reserve.

David Gornish focuses on patent litigation involving pharmaceutical issues and patent prosecution of mechanical inventions. His has been published in BNA's Patent, Trademark and Copyright Journal®, IP Law 360 and The Legal Intelligencer.

With a master's degree in genetics from Clemson University and a law degree from William and Mary, Marc Bassler practices in all areas of intellectual property law, with an emphasis on pharmaceutical litigation and ANDA litigation.

Caesar Rivise is proud of its many talented attorneys and is especially honored by the recognition Rising Stars has bestowed upon this year's recipients.
