With more than 100 years of combined experience, the attorneys at McIntyre Tate & Lynch provide legal services to individuals and families who face a range of issues related to family law, personal injury, probate administration and guardianship litigation. Our practice in family law focuses on complex divorce cases that involve division of substantial assets both in Rhode Island and out of state. We handle divorces in which there are significant business interests at issue, and when necessary, bring in experts such as certified public accountants, business valuation experts and counselors to assist us.

We understand that the family law issues our attorneys help clients resolve are emotional and difficult. We are compassionate and comforting to our clients, but at the same time we aggressively represent their interests.
