Our value is our quality and dedication to finding solutions—not the number of lawyers working on your case.

TIMES ARE TOUGH. LITIGATION OFTEN SPIKES WHEN THE economy hits a downturn and disputes over who is to blame and who should pay the consequences rise. While lawsuit fears vary for companies according to industry and size, many businesses share qualms about securities, insurance, real estate, contracts, employment, class action and IP litigation.

Lommen Abdo's commercial litigation practice group works with businesses to address those litigation fears. Our litigators have courtroom experience—presenting cases before judges, arbitrators or appellate panels is second nature for us. Lommen Abdo's litigators, supported by the firm's 38 lawyers, utilize cutting-edge tools to most efficiently provide counsel to clients. To capitalize on technology, we created a litigation support subsidiary, Electronic Litigator, that digitally handles documents from discovery through trial.

We are cognizant about the cost of litigation and do not over-lawyer matters. We work with businesses to understand their needs so that we can reach the best possible solution for your company, whether that means taking the case from trial through the last appeal or resolving the matter quickly and cost-effectively.

Why should you choose a Lommen Abdo litigator? The litigators pictured here are AV-rated by their peers in Martindale-Hubbell®, as are 65 percent of the firm's lawyers. Ten of our lawyers are included on the Minnesota Super Lawyers® list. Three of our litigators are on the Top 100 Minnesota Super Lawyers list. Three other litigators are among those listed in Minnesota Rising Stars. Six of our litigators are certified as civil trial specialists by the Minnesota State Bar Association or the National Board of Trial Advocacy. Four others are included in The Best Lawyers in America. Much of our work comes via referrals from other lawyers.

Our litigators have the credentials to win and we relish our trial and appellate work. Challenges invigorate us. Finding ways to succeed is what we do best and what we love to do. When you face litigation, retain Lommen Abdo's formidable and efficient commercial litigators. Our value is our quality and dedication to finding solutions, not the number of lawyers working on your case.
